Friends, I want to share one of my experiences with you. It may appear to you weird but it is true that when I was in third standard a friend of mine or “so called friend” of mine just put some chewing gum in my hairs and because of her this behavior I even had to cut my hairs ... and that too a large patch of them. And to my surprise when I asked her why she did this, her answer was that she wanted to take revenge as I had scored five marks higher than her. Oh my god ... yes it's true. Not only this, but she even threatened me not to score higher than her. Well, I did not do that. What was the result in it? She exhibited

Experience

You have given an insight into your ideas.

Clarity

You have explained it very well.

Questioning

You have asked a great question.

21st September is World Peace Day

We ask you to tell us why you wanted to make peace with this person, what you hoped to achieve, what the difficulties were, what the impact has been and any lessons you have learned.

“ I found that the most important category of people we have to make peace with are the people that are from different religion like here in Palestine we have no difference between muslims and christians and we live together ”

Tamara Hughs - Samiha Khalil, India

The 21st September is the UN International Day of Peace, a day devoted to strengthening the ideals of peace, both within and among all nations and peoples.

The day was first celebrated in 1982, and is kept by many nations, political groups, military groups, and peoples. In 2013, for the first time, the Day was dedicated by the Secretary-General of the United Nations to peace education, the key preventive means to reduce war sustainably. On this day the UN asks for the ceasing of hostilities and for people to commemorate the day through education and public awareness on issues related to peace.
